

News & Notes

July 7, 2009

The BIG DAY is Here!!!

Omaha Christian Academy will be moving into it's own facility on Saturday, July 11, 2009 – this coming Saturday! This could be the biggest day in OCA's history!

- ♦ We NEED MANY people in order to unload all 10 trucks that day. So, PLEASE come out to help – even if you can carry only light things – or even if you can work only part of the day. OCA NEEDS YOU!!!
- ♦ We'll start unloading at 9:00am – please come then if at all possible. But, your help anytime Saturday will be greatly appreciated! We plan to work until all trucks are unloaded.
- ♦ OCA will provide lunch (all you can eat Pizza!) for everyone on Saturday – and supper if we're still working. OCA will also provide water and other drinks during the day.
- ♦ Please bring a dolly if you have one – and bring some basic tools if you have that.
- ♦ Please park in the CAS parking lot just north of our building. Our parking lot will be filled up with ten 53 foot trailers!
- ♦ Remember – OCA students are earning community service hours for helping with the move!

*The new facility passed all city inspections and we've received our temporary occupancy permit. We'll receive our permanent occupancy permit once the doors to the storm shelter are installed (within the next couple of weeks).
Praise the Lord!!*